FullNet Purchases Downtown Oklahoma City Broadband Network

OKLAHOMA CITY, OK – FullNet Communications, Inc. (“FullNet”)(FULO – OTC Bulletin Board) today announced the acquisition of substantially all of the assets of Oklahoma City based IPDataCom, a division of Higganbotham.com, LLC. IPDataCom is a premier provider of Internet business solutions that work. In addition to Internet access, they also provide web site hosting and e-commerce solutions.

Included in the acquisition is their proprietary, high-speed broadband Internet access network, serving a number of key office buildings in downtown Oklahoma City, including the Bank One Tower, City Center Tower and First National Center. Commenting on the acquisition, founder and CEO Timothy J. Kilkenny said “This network, combined with our recently completed $1.0 million carrier-neutral co-location facility and our recently introduced line of DSL products, gives us a strong competitive advantage in downtown Oklahoma City for high-speed broadband Internet access. In addition, this acquisition allows us to expand our ability to provide both entry level and high-end e-commerce solutions to clients worldwide.”

FullNet is a facilities-based Integrated Communications Provider headquartered in Oklahoma City, engaged in consumer and business Internet services, including 1) dial-up, DSL, dedicated and broadband wireless access, with customers in 25 communities in Oklahoma, and 2) web hosting, server co-location and telecommunications premise co-location, with customers throughout the United States and more than 40 foreign countries.
